Senator Elkins, of West Virginia, Addresses the Senate On His Annexation Resolution.

ITS INTENT HAS BEEN MISUNDERSTOOD.

It Simply Voices, in Concrete Form. His Judgment that Cuba Ought to Be Annexed to the United States, and the Sooner the Better for Both Countries.

Washington, July 1 .- In the sente, after some routine business had been disposed of, Mr. Elkins, of West Virginia, addressed the senate in support of his resolution providing for the annexation by the United States of the island of Cuba. Following is an abstract of his speech:

Mr. Elkins said that his resolution had been misunderstood. It had no bearing upon Cuban reciprocity, and was not intended to have any. It simply voiced in concrete form his judgment that Cuba ought to be annexed to the United States, and the sooner resolution did not suggest annexation of Cuba in an offensive way. It provided that the Cubans must take the initiative, and only after they had asked for annexation could the United States act.

For nearly a century, he said, the annexation of Cuba to the United States had been the ambition of American statesmanship. He pointed out that many distinguished and pa triotic statesmen, from Jefferson to McKinley, had favored annexation and he thought the present was an opportune time to "carry into effect the well-defined wishes of a majority of the people of Cuba and the United affairs in government, trade and comnerce, to concentration and combi nation. Meteors go to the sun; small nations are becoming parts of great nations, and Cuba in her present enironment, situated as she is, can not e expected to resist this tendency. "The effect of the Platt amend-nents will be to help bring about anexation. A nation can not long renain half free and half dependent; such a condition embarresses healthy progress in national life and leave out little room for the exercise of the genius and intelligence of a people in the affairs of government esecially when under such restrictions is these amendments impose.

"The question of annexation forces itself to the front and will claim from now on the attention of the people of both countries. Reciprocity with Cuba affords no adequate remedy for what threatens her interest. A 20-per cent. reduction in her tariff and ours will do her as a government no good, while it will work great harm to the interests of the United States. "There was long discussion and fierce opposition to the annexation of Texas-much more, I think, than there will be to the annexation of Cuba, but it came at last as surely as the annexation of Cuba will come There is not a loyal and true American be found within the confines of the republic who would give up Texas, and within a few years after Cuba becomes a state in our union not an American will be found will ing to part with the island." The resolution was referred to the committee on Cuban affairs. WRECK CAUSED BY THE RAIN.

The sanguine impression created by the doctors' reports Saturday and Sunday was maintained by the salient phrase in this morning's bulletin, "No bad symptom of any kind." Official Statement.

At noon the following official statement was given out at the palace: "There is no cause for alarm in the distress caused by dressing the wound. This occurs at least twice daily. The wound, which is of considerable depth, is distressed from the bottom, as it is essential that it should heal from within outwards The dressing causes his majesty considerable pain, which he has borne with great fortitude. In fact, his majesty's courage and patience calls for the greatest admiration. The king was much benefitted by the change to the couch Sunday, on which he stayed for a few hours. HANNERLY THE "IDEA MAN."

He has Been Added To the Publicity Department of the St. Louis World's Fair.

St. Louis, July 1.-An addition to the World's fair forces has been announced in the appointment of James J. Hannerty as "idea man." He is an acquisition to the publicity department, to which he will hereafter exclusively contribut his ideas. His work for the exposition company began long before his appointment was onsidered. Posters and other means of advertising the fair have been contribuuted by him from time to time to the exposition company for a year or more past. Notable among these is the star emblem, in which the five points of a star embrace historical scenes. This has been used extensively by the publicity bureaus, and is perhaps better known than any single device that has yet been adopted for promoting the World's fair idea. The New York Herald recently devoted an entire page of its Sunday magazine to Hannerty posters, and commented favorably on the unique publicity plan. During the Columbian exposition Mr. Hannerty was manager of "Old Vienna," which has been imitated at all the expositions held since. He does not profess to be an artist, and his ideas, drawn by himself crudely, are evolved under his direction by skilled workmen. Mr. Hannerty's first contribution to the idea field since he became connected with the exposition is a liberty bell idea, in which the figure of a beautiful woman stands in reliet against the bell.
